

Ribble Class News

Week – 27th November 2023

We have had another very busy week in Ribble! Once again, the children have made us incredibly proud due to the effort they have made during assessment week. Well done, children – we couldn't have asked for any more from you! We are looking forward to a well-earned treat today as we celebrate Elf Day in remembrance of Ichor and the joy he brought to our school.

What have we been learning about this week?

Learning Means the World

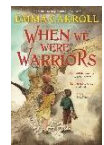

The children have been doing some acting this week, focusing in the invaders and warriors that are a part of the story of Roman Britain. Having learned all about Boudicca and her fearsome acts of bravery, we used this information, and what we know about the Romans, to imagine a conversation between the two sides. I have to admit I was a little scared of some of our Boudiccas in particular – they were very convincing!

Maths

The children have been working hard on remembering all they have learnt so far this year, as well as everything that came before as they have been completing maths assessments during assessment week. They have done themselves and us proud!

Reading

There have been some spooky goings on in our guided reading novel this week: a mysterious woman sitting on the end of a bed at night, empty rooms belonging to lost children and a dangerous lake. We are not sure if this is going to be a ghost story or just an amazing adventure but we can't wait to find out!

Writing

We have completed our first drafts of our fast animals information pages and are beginning to get our layout and pictures on the page ready for publication. The children have been so enthusiastic about this and many of them have found out extra information about their animals at home. Once they are published, we will be taking a copy of our book to the infants for them to enjoy!

PE

Ribble enjoyed a fabulously fun and competitive game of bench ball in our PE slot this week as the class chose this as a reward for filling our jar of jewels for the second time. The children impressed me again with their great teamwork and honesty, which meant that we all enjoyed this very much!

RE

We have explored mosques this week by looking at lots of pictures and videos and have been thinking about why they are such special places for Muslims. We then produced some fabulously intricate and beautiful patterns inspired by what we had seen.

Our theme in Collective worship is Peace. Well done to Rubi, Tamann, Jacob and Fraser who took starring roles in Collective Worship at the last minute on Thursday morning – we were very proud!
