Week 11/12/23

The children have worked ever so hard preparing for our nativity this week. We are extremely proud of them! We hope that you enjoyed watching the show and thank you so much for all the hard work at home with learning lines, sourcing costumes and Christmas jumpers, and encouraging extra singing practice!

What have we been learning about this week:

Learning Means the World

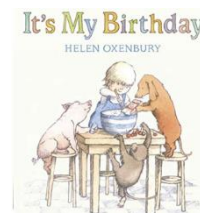

In 'Learning Means the World' we have been working with our curriculum creature Newton, a scientist. We have been building on our plants learning by learning about the difference between deciduous and evergreen trees and recognising examples of each. Can you spot both types on your way to and from school?

Maths

This week we have been completing our addition and subtraction to 10 unit, by applying our knowledge to solve word problems.

Reading

Our class text is It's My Birthday by Helen Oxenbury.

Writing

We have worked extremely hard to use our text maps to write the beginning of It's My Birthday ourselves. We continue to try to start sentences with capital letters, use finger spaces, and end with punctuation.

PE

For this week, our PE time was used for nativity rehearsals and performances.

RE

We have been remembering our learning from this half term and our big question, "Why is Christmas important to Christians?" as we take part in the nativity play and think about Advent in Collective worship.

Our theme in Collective worship is Advent, exploring the candle of peace: a light shining in the darkness.
